

FORMER GERMAN TRENCH RECAPTURED IN ALSACE PARIS REPORT ADMITS

FRENCH INSIST ADVANCES HAVE BEEN MADE NEAR RHIMES AND IN AR-CONNE REGION.

GARIBOLDI IS KILLED

Second Grandson of Italian Patriot Meets Death in Vicinity of Steinbach Says Paris Announcement.

German trench nearly a half a mile in the Argonne region was blown by the allies, according to today's statement from Paris. The trench then made an infantry attack and capture of half of the trenches. During this charge a grandson of the Italian patriot, Garibaldi, was killed. The recent death in action of another grandson, is said in Rome to have reawakened the war spirit in Italy.

Aside from the fighting in the Argonne, activity is limited chiefly to upper Alsace, where the Germans seem to have checked French advances. The only claim made in the French statement is that the ground near the German line and "been" in the killing of their own countrymen and to the destruction of French homes. The capture of several trenches from the allies is reported.

Fighting continues along the main line west of Warsaw, but dispatches from Petrograd and Berlin agree that there have been no important developments recently. Today German official communication says that a few Russian positions were captured.

The garrison which has been defending the Russian fortress of Przemyśl, under siege by the Austrians for many weeks, attempted another sortie. It is said at Petrograd that the members of the sortie party were either killed, wounded or captured. Against two of the three nations in the fighting, Russia apparently has been heavily. To the victory over the Austrians last week is added, according to claims of Petrograd, the capture of two of the three Russian cities which invaded Russian territory. Latest reports from the Russian military authorities are that the capture of the Turkish army corps was completed, and that one Turkish army corps was captured.

The campaign against the Germans, however, had led to no definite results. The Germans are handicapped by bad weather in their advance toward Moscow, but Berlin asserts that progress is still being made.

In the Austrian province of Buchovina the Russians, according to Petrograd dispatches, are making little progress. Friendly relations have been established between the Russian and the frontier guards of Rumania, which adjoins Buchovina, and

HERE'S BATHROOM IN FRENCH TRENCHES

Emperor William II. The latest photograph of the German emperor, taken five weeks ago, shows how his hair has turned gray. His haggard look is attributed to cares occasioned by the war. He shortly will leave the front where he has been since Christmas, to undergo a throat operation in Berlin.

MEXICANS PARALLEL WORLD WAR BATTLES IN SHELLING CITY

Carranza Forces in Shell Fire Ravage and Capture Puebla—Beautiful Church Destroyed.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Details of the battles of Puebla supplementing the news dispatches of last night, from Vera Cruz, were given today in a dispatch dated January 5th, to the Carranza Agency here.

"General Obregon is in complete control of the city and its environs," said the dispatches.

"Forty field pieces were used in the shelling, and the withering fire soon had the defenders abandoning their most strongly fortified positions. The cavalry charged the defenders, corraling them in the center of the city. The entire garrison was made prisoner."

Six well directed shells almost destroyed the cathedral of Guadalupe, one of the most beautiful in all Mexico. Many other prominent buildings were razed by the artillery fire.

"Dead and wounded filled the streets when the loyalists entered the city, and the number was greatly augmented by sharp street fighting. It is believed that rebels lost several thousand killed and wounded. Five thousand or more were taken prisoner with all munition, arms and provisions."

Naco, Ariz., Jan. 6.—General Salpe Angeles, Villa's chief subordinate, and said to be his choice for provisional president of Mexico, was captured yesterday when General Obregon gave the Villa-Zapata army out of Puebla, according to a message from Vera Cruz received by General Hill, commanding the Carranza garrison at Naco. Angeles was in command of the army defeated by Obregon.

NEW GOVERNOR TAKES OATH IN MINNESOTA

Economy and Efficiency Given Prominence in Recommendations at Induction of Gov. Hammond.

St. Paul, Jan. 6.—Winfield Scott Hammond of St. James, became Minnesota's eighteenth governor at noon today, when he took the oath of office in the house chamber.

The new democratic government made the following recommendations:

That the report of the state efficiency and economy commission, reorganizing the system of state government be adopted.

That the primary law be amended to make it compulsory for all voters to participate in primary elections.

That the unused land of the state be improved to attract settlers.

That a constitutional amendment be submitted to the people giving to the legislature the power to enact legislation establishing the initiative and referendum.

The governor laid emphasis on the value of the plans for reorganizing the state government.

"Efficiency is the highest type of economy," he said, "and the purpose of reorganizing the civil administration of Minnesota is to secure economy and efficiency."

The efficiency and economy commission's report embodies the following recommendations:

First, a reorganization of the civil administration, second, the inauguration of the merit system in selecting state employees; and third, the establishment of the budget system in making appropriations.

That a temporary law be passed early in the session to clear the way for other important matters; approved the present "good roads" policy of the state; and advocated a revision of election laws, in the interest of accuracy and clearness.

EX-CONVICT DEFIES POSSE OF OFFICERS

Barricaded Himself on Island in Rock River Below Rockford and Makes Threats to Kill.

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 6.—Barricaded behind the walls of a summer cottage on a small island in the Rock River near Oregon an alleged free booter today continued to defy the efforts of sheriff's officers to dislodge him. The man is believed to be Joseph Boyer, described as an ex-convict. According to word from the members of the posse, which is seeking to arrest him, he is well armed and has threatened to shoot to kill before he is captured.

The county officers are trying to break up a band of men who are said to have entered and robbed a number of summer cottages along the Rock River short distance from Oregon, and two men have been arrested and said to have confessed.

TWO MEN ESCAPE

Oregon, Ill., Jan. 6.—Apparently unnoticed by a party on an island in the Rock River, Joseph Boyer and a man said to be Harry Shaffer, escaped from a posse of deputy sheriffs today. The two men were seen fleeing into the darkness and were being pursued by a posse of men.

Boyer is said to be a paroled convict and Shaffer is his brother-in-law. They are seeking to arrest the men in connection with numerous robberies of cottages surrounding the river.

CHARGES VIOLATION OF WATERPOWER ACT

Order Directing Suit Against Burkhardt Milling Company, One of McGovern's Last Official Acts.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 6.—Before Governor McGovern retired from office, he directed Attorney General Owen to start legal proceedings against the Burkhardt Milling Company of Burkhardt, St. Croix county, for alleged violation of the waterpower law of 1913. The attorney general has been informed by the executive department that the milling company is constructing a dam on the Willow River which will secure a franchise from the railroad commission. Mr. Owen says that every navigable stream in the state is within the scope of the law for waterpower development. He said that if the construction had only been in the form of an injunction, but that it had proceeded far the action would be for the removal of the obstruction. This action was taken because of some features of the waterpower act and determine more specifically just what streams are navigable within the meaning of the waterpower law.

REMOVE SCAFFOLDING FROM CAPITOL DOME

Interior Finish Has Been Entirely Completed and Is Ready for Public Inspection.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 6.—Within the next few days the scaffolding in the new dome will be down and the public will have an opportunity to see the interior of the new structure. When all the framework is down, visitors will be allowed to inspect the dome and to climb to the top of the dome leading to the very top.

All of the iron work and most of the granite work on the north wing is completed. The work of putting in the floor will be started in a few days. The contracts having been awarded. In another year, Mr. Porter said, the wing will be completed and occupied.

Two of the twenty-two offices in the capitol building have been moved to the new capitol building on the capitol square.

ESSMANN WILL ASK BOARD FOR PARDON

Application of Former Superintendent of Public Property to Come Before Parole Board.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 6.—The first parole hearing of this year will be held at Waupun on January 20. The application of William L. Essmann, former superintendent of public property, will come before the board for pardon. When the board of control met last at Waupun, in December, Mr. Essmann was not eligible, and his application was not presented. It is probable that if his petition is favorably acted upon by the board and approved by Governor Phillips, he may be released in the first week of January. Essmann is now engaged in construction work at the prison, with a camp of prisoners employed in road building. He was sent to Waupun last fall for a term of fifteen months for embezzlement. Although he was eligible for parole during the holidays, no special consideration was asked or given in his case. For as a parolee he is not eligible, no application for his pardon has been made. Usually there are about thirty applications for parole at each monthly hearing at the prison. The parole board number will be considered on Jan. 20.

DESCRIBES DEATH OF SON OF VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG

Berlin, Jan. 6.—One of the German cavalrymen who were with the son of Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the chancellor of the empire, when the young man was killed on patrol duty in Poland, has given a description of the lieutenant's death.

Lieutenant Von Bethmann-Hollweg and ten cavalrymen, on night patrol, were riding through a little forest, the soldier relates. Suddenly a detachment of about thirty Russian Cossacks opened fire. The lieutenant was shot through the head and in the abdomen. Two of the cavalrymen held him up. One of the men while the German party galloped out of range. Only then was it found that the officer already was dead.

SUBWAY FIRE TIES UP STREET TRAFFIC

ENTIRE SYSTEM OF GREAT UNDERGROUND ROAD IS TIED UP.

MANY PEOPLE INJURED

In Wild Rush to Escape From the Tunnel—Fire Department Called Out To Rescue Injured.

New York, Jan. 6.—The New York subway was visited by a fire and panic today which sent some 200 persons to hospitals, caused the death of one woman, and demoralized the transportation system of the city. The fire is said to have been due to electrical explosion in a conduit between the 56th and 59th street station. The noise, flame and smoke terrified the 700 or more passengers on two down town trains stalled nearby and in their efforts to escape, scores were badly bruised, many were knocked unconscious, and still others were overcome by smoke.

The subway service, according to Commissioner McCall, of the public service commission, may be tied up for several days as result of the accident. If this proves true, it will mean that more than half a million of the city's subway trains will be diverted to the surface and elevated systems, and cause a congestion without parallel in the history of the city.

It was more than 3 hours after the accident that the subway service was resumed, and during that time in the street nearby there was a continuous procession of flying ambulances and private automobiles removing the injured to hospitals. The accident is described by the police as worst in the history of the subway.

During the first excitement authorities seriously considered blowing up sections of the pavement on the scene of the accident to let fresh air into the tube. As it was, fangs of men were set to work with flame blow pipes, burning holes in the concrete.

An Early report said twelve persons were killed in a 3-alarm fire which raged in the subway at Broadway near 55th street at the height of the rush hour this morning. More than fifty others were taken unconscious from smoke and from trains. Three persons were killed in the fire. The resumption of slow service following a tie-up of an hour and a half. The service was again halted. Police headquarters received word that a number of the subway cars and elevated trains were badly congested, and all subway stations were filled to overflowing with struggling crowds.

Many persons imprisoned on trains, stalled between stations, were overcome by smoke and taken unconscious by the police. More than 300 persons were overcome in the history of the fire department, a special alarm called out firemen and battalion chiefs without apparatus to fight the flames and care for the injured.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The tall wireless towers at Arlington are in uninterrupted communication with Eiffel tower in Paris both day and night, a feat which has heretofore been possible only at night because of static conditions. LIFE-STATION KEEPERS OF DISTRICT ORGANIZE

Grand Haven, Mich., Jan. 6.—A plan to organize a national association of keepers of life-saving stations was launched here today by the keepers of the twelfth district.

The keepers met today to form a district organization. The idea received such enthusiastic support that it was resolved to interest other keepers and extend the organization to include all the stations on the Great Lakes. Later it was decided to make an attempt to form a national organization, with the district association as a nucleus.

The meeting was held here today because this is the home of the district superintendent, G. B. Loberg. Other meetings will be held at Milwaukee, Muskegon, Sheboygan, Ludington, Manitowish, and all the lake ports. The association will meet twice a year in the future, once at the close of each season and again just before the opening of navigation.

Captain Peter Van Lopik will entertain all the keepers at a banquet here tonight.

Avoid the Store of "Just as Good"

"When you ask for an article you have seen advertised in this paper—get it. Don't take something 'just as good' on the say-so of the clerk. Avoid the store that habitually offers substitutes. The manufacturer who advertises his product in this newspaper is building good will. He must back this up with worthy merchandise and fair prices. The storekeeper who habitually offers something 'just as good' is trying to enrich himself at the cost of your satisfaction."

TEMPLARS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE FRIDAY

Secure Eminent Chicago Lecturer to Give Address on History of Knighthood.

Janesville Commandery No. 2, Knights Templar, will hold open house Friday night. The Knights have been fortunate in securing the Rev. E. H. Hubbell, Ph. D., of Chicago, to deliver a lecture, entitled, "When Knighthood Was in Flower." The lecture, as the title implies, deals with the rise of chivalry, the organization of the Knights Templar, for the protection of pilgrims to the Holy Land, and their great exploits at Cyprus, Rhodes and the island of Malta, and the victory which they won for the Christian world, in restraining the Mohammedan forces from reaching Europe.

The lecture is of especial interest to Knights Templar, showing the origin, development and culmination of their work. Dr. Hubbell has repeated the lecture before the largest commanderies of Chicago. It is illustrated with slides made from pictures taken mostly by himself when visiting the parts of the world referred to in the history of the Templars.

"HANKY PANKY" AT MYERS LAST NIGHT

Much Heralded Attraction Plays to Large House.

Hanky Panky as played at the present time has the saving grace of a certain kind of humor. None of the old-time favorites are shown in the present act, although Al and Frankie Steadman are a clever pair to substitute for the whirlwind team of Montgomery and Moore.

The society dancing of Miss Blanche Young and Cyril Pauly was perhaps the best part of the whole entertainment.

Dedicated English and staphetic comedy will no doubt carry an appeal for many years to come despite those who refuse to take humor in anything but the King's English. The audience approved in part the antics of "Oscar and Adolph" and the Jewish financier.

The poker scene in which none of the participants have anything less than a royal flush, is one of the good card scenes on the stage today.

College songs, dancing and the song favorites like Rose of Pyramid Land and the Dixie Loco Song made up the balance of the entertainment.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens
so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It is so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

Back hurt you. Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Limb up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

RAILROAD VIADUCT BEING CONSTRUCTED

Contractor Begins Work of Replacing Old Black Bridge Northeast of City.

Contractor Fred Gierl and his gang of workmen have begun work on the new viaduct over the tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern company, on what is known as the Black Bridge road, northeast of this city. In consequence the highway will be closed to traffic for at least thirty days, beginning with today. The new bridge will be a permanent and durable structure, with steel beams and underpinning.

CITIES PROTEST ON RESERVE BANK LAZARUS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, Jan. 6.—Rival claims of Richmond, Va., and Baltimore, Md., for financial and commercial supremacy were aired here today. Hearings were begun by the federal reserve board upon the protest of Baltimore against the location of the regional reserve bank at Richmond instead of Baltimore. Failing to win out in a fight with Richmond to have the regional bank located at Baltimore, interests of the latter city request, as one alternative, that the College of Agriculture be included in the Philadelphia instead of the Richmond banking district.

Other protests of geographical divisions of the new banking system were heard by the board today. The regional banks were assigned by the "organization committee" before the board was appointed. The board has authority to re-district and change banking districts at any time. As Secretary of Treasury McAdoo and Comptroller of Currency John Skelton Williams were members of the organization committee making the original selections and are now members of the board, it is thought that important changes in the present geographical make-up of the new system are doubtful.

Preminent bankers and business men of both Baltimore and Richmond appeared today. They filed reams of documents pro and con. The oral arguments today, however, were the first held by the new board.

STATE OF WIS

SEEK TO FREE CRAIG BY HABEAS CORPUS

While Attorney Ryan Argues Case Before Court Commissioner, New Warrant Ready to Be Served.

Attorney E. H. Ryan, who is defending Craig, the young man held on Saturday morning charges, made by District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie, today brought proceedings before Court Commissioner E. F. Carpenter to have Craig discharged on habeas corpus. At eleven o'clock Attorney Ryan opened oral arguments for Craig's release on the grounds that the warrant on which Craig was arrested was faulty.

After the proceedings, Turner, who had Craig in custody, sat with a new warrant ready to serve on Craig in case Court Commissioner Carpenter upheld the claims of Dunwiddie. Ryan, who was the claimant of Attorney Ryan. The new warrant contains the same charges, but is made out to comply with the legal technicalities raised by the defendant's lawyer. It was claimed by Ryan that the complaint and warrant, charging Craig with committing crimes against Lizzie Vining, contained only one personal belief that Craig was guilty.

Attorney Ryan based his claim for the freeing writ on the grounds that there was no charge in "positive" language showing that Craig had committed an offense and it was only the belief of the complainant. District Attorney Dunwiddie, who refused to consider the claims made by Ryan, stating the present warrant covered the requirements. The state has taken the necessary steps demanded by the defense in the John Doe proceedings, but it is not thought probable that the names of the witnesses and their testimony be contained in the indicting papers.

At the completion of the arguments the citing of law cases Court Commissioner Carpenter upheld the claims of Dunwiddie and ordered that Craig be taken back to jail on the original warrant, holding that this instrument was legal. Attorney Ryan declared that an appeal would not be taken to the circuit court, but that he would petition for a new writ from the state supreme court, which would mean a final decision in the case and a settlement of the controversy raised by several attorneys here regarding the jurisdiction of the magistrate of the municipal court to issue a warrant and what evidence the complaint should contain.

In case a new writ is obtained from the supreme court it will mean further adjournment in the trial, which is set for Friday morning, this week.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

Ask Tom Marshall. Of all the things I'd like to be— I'm no ambitious goni— It really would just tickle me To be vice president. A fellow could drop out of sight— And follow his own bent.

There would be nothing much to do. The pay is not so bad. No journalists would hang around To roast each whim and fad. No office seeker sticking by To drive a fellow mad.

He could just loaf around the house And not dress up at all. For no one ever has been known To hore him with a call. And he could wear the same necktie From early spring till fall.

No bill collectors ever could Locate him if they tried. 'Tis doubtful if the papers would Find out that he had died. And no one cares if he has told The truth or simply lied.

They talk about the simple life. That brings peace and content; The joy of being all alone, A boon that's heaven sent. The simplest man known is just To be vice president.

What Was the Matter? The automobile gave one final despairing heave and stopped dead still near the park. The young man whose father owned the machine climbed down and looked it over, rolled up his sleeves and got busy. He knew as much about the machine as the average congressman knows about the tariff, and that is very little. The first man came along with a wrench.

"Take it from me, friends, your carburetor is on the blink," said he, and passed on.

The young man got busy with what he supposed was the carburetor, and the second man came along.

"It's the spark plug," said he, and the young man removed several more pieces of machinery in an effort to locate a spark plug, being almost afraid that he could find one.

"It's the feed pipe," suggested a fourth.

"You've dropped the ash pan," ventured the fifth.

"The engine is caught on the gearwhisker," said the sixth. By this time the young man had everything apart but the frame and the wheels, and his car was scattered about the park.

"How do you expect to run this car—on wind? What you need is a nickel's worth of gasoline."

And the garage repair bill was $97.45.

From the Hickeyville Carlin. Renfrew Hinks, our talented and versatile station agent at the railroad depot, said a lot of fellows next to good tips on his stock market by tapping the telegraph wires. Hank Tumms climbed a pole next day and tapped a wire for an hour with his jackknife, but he didn't get no information. Hank Tumms says Ren is a liar.

Miss Amy Pringle has bought a "Gates Ajar" frame from the home house and expects to trim it up for a hunt in the near future.

Elmer Jones says he would like to own a good hotheose because a fellow could stay in all the year around and keep nice and warm for nothing.

Since Doc Hanks has had the mumps his whiskers is too small and don't fit his face.

A fellow that shoots glass balls in a Wild West Show has certainly got some aim in life.

Miss Amy Pringle, our milliner, says she would like to marry one of them foreign counts. By gum, she will marry a foreign one if she marries any, because there ain't no other kind except New York count, and they are oysters. Folks say the count Amy marries won't be no oyster. He will be a lobster.

And Tumms says Hays is a humbug when he poses as Peerless Leader. Hank claims to be the Peerless Leader himself, as he has claimed more Peerless than any other fellow in this country.

What the weather has lacked in quality lately, it has made up in quantity.

But Hinks ain't seen much of the world. He figured it up that he has spent fourteen years in jail and twenty-one years waitin' in barber shops to get shaved.

Female Voice—Now, you listen, he isn't going to shoot again. Now be quiet, dear.

THEY WILL HAVE A WEDDING IN JUNE

Miss Eleanor Reayburn and Lieut. Francis Harrington.

Probably the first announced of the June brides of 1915 is Miss Eleanor Reayburn, of Philadelphia and Washington, who is to marry Lieut. Francis Harrington U. S. A. during that month. Mrs. John E. Reayburn, widow of the former Mayor of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania representative in congress, has just announced the engagement.

Consuls Have Troubles. The stranded American is the bane of the consul. His office is invaded by persons claiming his good offices after their plans have gone askew. Those in better circumstances demand that the consul indorse their notes at the bank, those in poorer circumstances demand to be sent home. It is apparently a fixed idea that a consul can draw on the treasury for the relief of stranded Americans. Many cases of distress are pliable and consuls, not even recouped against the social expenses incidental to their position, have to give relief out of their private means and to stand the inevitable loss. The only persons whom consuls are authorized by law to aid are sailors on the articles of a vessel of American registry wrecked within their consular districts, and in this case only to the extent of immediate relief and passage to the next American port.

If You Could Only Be A Stomach. You'd Go to Bed Rather Sore at the Work You'd Have to Do. Fancy a master that works a horse so long, without rest, that the poor old beast at last has to go to a bone pile. Fancy yourself doing the same thing with your stomach, the noblest of all our physical organs.

Just imagine yourself devoting hours of ceaseless work to the digestion of a meal which you cannot digest because of wrongful ingredients given to you by the blood.

Is not a man very foolish to imagine a raw sick stomach capable of good work when the juices it receives are so filled with alkali or acid that they actually eat the stomach membrane?

Do you not know from a common sense point of view that to continue such a course means not only the impairment of your stomach but of all digestive organs as well?

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go into your stomach just like food. They are so powerful in health giving qualities that almost instantly the work of digestion is improved. They ease up the stomach's work. They ease up the blood and balance it perfectly. Thus, when the stomach calls for new juices at your next meal you are able to furnish them.

Your common sense will tell you that so great an aid to digestion as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets could not be in every drug store, unless demanded after trial by all classes of stomach sufferers.

No more are they a doubtful quality. They have passed a rigid examination by all manner of stomach and digestive tests, and they have been awarded the diploma of American patronage. Theirs has been the practical test.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale at all druggists at five a box. Send coupon below today and we will at once send you by mail a sample free.

Military Experts Have Plans To Protect Nation From Invasion

(By Burton K. Standish.)

Washington, Jan. 6.—Stored away in the vaults of the army and navy departments today are secret plans for war. These show just what moves this country would make in event of hostilities against our shores. Every possible plan of approach of an enemy has been considered, and with it has been evolved by the military strategists a method for meeting such an attack.

Not until the recent agitation over national security was it known that this nation is prepared for war, in the sense of having such carefully laid schemes of defense and offense. Assistant Secretary of Navy Root disclosed one of the secrets when he indicated that fully 50,000 more men would have to be added to the navy, if a foreign power were to make war on this nation. But for the most part, the details of the strategy of the military planners is guarded with jealous care.

Buck of all these confidential war moves lies two great organizations—the army and navy war colleges. Their "game boards," in conjunction with the fleet have developed these war ideas to a nicety which officials believe would stand the nations in good stead in case of actual practice. Instead of the theory only, the relation between the "game-boards" and the actual fleet operation, in the navy for instance, has been admittedly weak in recent months. But the Navy Department has turned its attention to making these problems of attack and defense as practical as possible. To this end, work is now under way to make the relations between the theorists and the admirals and captains more practical.

The "game board" is just what its name signifies—a huge board on which the game of destruction is played by men trained to the arts of death.

The United States navy is represented by miniature ships of a certain color. The ships of an enemy are designed by another color. They are moved around like chess men, but the elements of mathematical calculation of intricate accuracy, of naval strategy enter into every movement. One tactical mistake may destroy the miniature United States fleet. To err on the game board is serious business for it means that the man in charge might do the same war he engaged in a life and death struggle.

Then make this board play more realistic, the intricate problem suggested by the board are transferred to commanders of the big dreadnoughts. There, these ideas are put into actual practice when maneuvers are possible.

Problems suggested by the naval encounters of the European war have been transferred to the game board so that America's strategists may benefit from the spectacular feats of British and German vessels alike.

And the army, too, works out maneuvers along the same line. Both of the military colleges develop officers in all the "tricks of the trade." For instance, these colleges have developed—in theory at least—that a battle from Europe might approach America's shores, halt at a distance of fully 600 miles from New York, and then send out over the waves an aircraft loaded with bombs to drop on America's metropolises.

In these colleges officers of both services are given the benefit of a long training in strategy. They are taught to go on the other fellow one better. And the training is invaluable, officials contend. Rear Admiral Pike is authority for the statement that Germany's war planning is responsible for the remarkable escape of the German vessels from Kiau Chau and their subsequent saily into Chilean waters where they sank two vessels larger than themselves.

Such an escape, he fully believes, was developed by the wonderful strategists—war planners of the German empire—long before the war broke out. Then, too, he believes that superior skill was responsible for the German victory against two larger vessels—a feat unparalleled in naval annals.

America has taken a leaf from Germany's book. She has laid her plans carefully and thoroughly, and if war comes, no move can be made by an enemy which is not already anticipated in those secret papers that regulate the navy's look-out in the gray granite building of the war and navy branches.

Propose of the discussion of national security, much comment has been aroused by the proposal to shut off exportation of privately manufactured munition of war after 1920. A bill introduced by Representative Crosser of Ohio proposes such a move. If it is enacted into law, America can have the assurance that "Made in America" instruments of death will never be turned against this nation.

Crosser likewise proposes that the government extend its activities to the manufacture of its own ammunition. That the government has been "gouged" in times past by manufacturers of certain lines is the very plain intimation of Secretary Daniels, who himself stands for such government ownership.

Left Fatal Evidence. A burglar who broke into an antiquary's shop in Paris has been identified by means of a strip of skin torn from his ear by the broken glass of a showcase. The piece of skin was preserved in a bottle of spirits, and it fitted on to a fresh scar on the man's left ear.
